Objectives:

This joint Research Seminar gathers scientists at all levels (professor, postdocs, doctoral students) to exchange thoughts and views with renowned visiting scientist about current research questions in management und applied microeconomics on a regular basis.

In the previous seminar series, we welcomed visiting speakers from the Catholic University of Mons, University of Alabama, University of Hamburg, Illinois State University, the Wharton School, Georgia State University, London School of Economics, University of Augsburg and from the Vienna Institute for Advanced Studies & MIT, among others.

Through generous support from the LMU Management Alumni Network, this seminar can be continued with a series of excellent speakers. We are looking forward inspiring discussions with them.

Interested individuals are always welcome to this open event!
